Personal Greetings

¹*I have good things to say about Phoebe, who is a leader in the church at Cenchreae. ²Welcome her in a way that is proper for someone who has faith in the Lord and is one of God's own people. Help her in any way you can. After all, she has proved to be a respected leader for many others, including me.*

³*Give my greetings to Priscilla and Aquila. They have not only served Christ Jesus together with me, ⁴but they have even risked their lives for me. I am grateful for them and so are all the Gentile churches. ⁵Greet the church that meets in their home.*

Greet my dear friend Epaphroditus, who was the first person in Asia to have faith in Christ.

⁶*Greet Mary, who has worked so hard for you.*

⁷*Greet my relatives Andronicus and Junias, who were in jail with me. They are highly respected by the apostles and were followers of Christ before I was.*

⁸*Greet Ampliatus, my dear friend whose faith is in the Lord.*

⁹*Greet Urbanus, who serves Christ along with us.*

Greet my dear friend Stachys.

¹⁰*Greet Apelles, a faithful servant of Christ.*

Greet Aristobulus and his family.

¹¹*Greet Herodion, who is a relative of mine.*

Greet Narcissus and the others in his family, who have faith in the Lord.

¹²*Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who work hard for the Lord.*

Greet my dear friend Persis. She also works hard for the Lord.

¹³*Greet Rufus, that special servant of the Lord, and greet his mother, who has been like a mother to me.*

¹⁴*Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, and Hermas, as well as our friends who are with them.*

¹⁵*Greet Philologus, Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all of God's people who are with them.*

¹⁶*Be sure to give each other a warm greeting.*

All of Christ's churches greet you.

¹⁷My friends, I beg you to watch out for anyone who causes trouble and divides the church by refusing to do what all of you were taught. Stay away from them! ¹⁸They want to serve themselves and not Christ the Lord. Their flattery and fancy talk fool people who don't know any better. ¹⁹I am glad that everyone knows how well you obey the Lord. But still, I want you to understand what is good and not have anything to do with evil. ²⁰Then God, who gives peace, will soon crush Satan under your feet. I pray that our Lord Jesus will be kind to you.

²¹Timothy, who works with me, sends his greetings, and so do my relatives, Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater.

²²I, Tertius, also send my greetings. I am a follower of the Lord, and I wrote this letter.

²³⁻²⁴Gaius welcomes me and the whole church into his home, and he sends his greetings.

Erastus, the city treasurer, and our dear friend Quartus send their greetings too.

Paul's Closing Prayer

²⁵Praise God! He can make you strong by means of my good news, which is the message about Jesus Christ. For ages and ages this message was kept secret, ²⁶but now at last it has been told. The eternal God commanded his prophets to write about the good news, so that all nations would obey and have faith. ²⁷And now, because of Jesus Christ, we can praise the only wise God forever! Amen.

Now answer the following questions related to the people whom Paul has endorsed to the believers in Rome:

1. The first of Paul's friends and co-workers that we encounter is a lady named Phoebe—she is the one delivering this letter to the Romans. What role does Paul say that she has in the church?

2. Paul now lists the other co-workers (25 people, plus families) that he is recommending to the church at Rome in Romans 16 verses 3 through 16. Read through the list below and note who each of these associates were. We can also infer from this long list of the people Paul both worked with and had a close personal relationship with, that he was not a "one man show." Note that many of his recommended associates were women, unlike the custom of the day that devalued women and their role in society. Paul did not take that approach, just as Jesus did not. As a results, his friends and associates came from a wide variety of ethnic groups.
 - a. Who did Paul say had worked with him and risked their lives for him?

 - b. Who was the first person in Asia to be saved through Christ?

 - c. Who were the "relatives," or Jewish friends, who were in jail with him?

 - d. Who else did Paul say was a "relative," or Jewish friend, of his?

 - e. Paul mentions two men and also their families. Unlike the other folks that he has recommended, he also recommends the families of these two men. What are their names?

 - f. Paul also describes someone as a "special servant of the Lord." Who is that?

 - g. Who wrote this letter as Paul dictated it?

 - h. Who else sent greetings to the church in Rome?

- i. Who has the church in his home and welcomes Paul in Corinth?
- j. Who was the Corinth City Treasurer whom Paul also commended?

In his letter, Paul implores them to be aware of false teachers, and tells them that he wants them to know that God is going to crush Satan under his feet. Paul concludes by again telling them that, in the past, the Gospel was kept secret; but "now at last it has been told." This previously-unknown truth—that Jesus is the promised Messiah—is now being widely proclaimed to both the Jews and the Gentiles, so that "all nations would obey and have faith."

What a powerful letter Paul has written—full of judgment, instruction, and, most of all, full of God's grace. This great grace is available to all who will believe on the name of Jesus.

Let's conclude our study of Romans by reading three key texts from the New International Version (NIV):

- Joel 2:32 And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved; for on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be deliverance, as the Lord has said, even among the survivors whom the Lord calls.
- Acts 2:21 And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved.
- Romans 10:13 for, "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."

What a marvelous promise from God: salvation is open to all! Let's get that word out to everyone with the same zeal and determination that Paul and his fellow workers possessed. What a glorious study indeed!

May God bless you as you continue to study His Holy Word with us.

In Christ,
