Lesson 2

The Church of Latter Day Saints (Mormons)

We continue our study of the cults this week with The Church of Jesus Christ Of Latter-Day Saints (LDS) - the Mormons. In our last study we commented on some of the main points that we will find with most cults and how much of that was evident in the Jehovah's Witnesses. We saw how the ideas, inspirations, and voluminous writings of two men created a false religion that looks almost true to Christianity. And, as we pointed out in the last lesson, how special revelations, re-written bibles, or augmenting other material, will often carry significantly more authority than the God's Holy Word. We also noted that works play a major role in the Jehovah Witness faith and the sense that one can work their way up different levels and that only a minority privileged few are truly blessed.

Again, in this lesson we'll see that same model and more, as we study the church founded by Joseph Smith on April 6, 1830. I suspect that as well known as the Mormons are, and as many stories as you may have heard about them, that we might believe we actually understand them and have a solid understanding of their doctrine. But, we would all be mistaken unless we've either been Mormon, or have actually studied the Book of Mormon and the church's doctrine. Trust me, what many of you will learn this week will surprise you; I have no doubt of that.

To make that point, below is a list of true/false questions that I've written for a previous study – if you have access to the Book of Mormon, or some internet tools, you will find that the answers to the following list of questions will really open your eyes to what the Mormons actually believe, both about the world today and the world to come.

So get your research tools handy, and answer true or false to the following questions. You may want to consider a study help from Rose Publishing, entitled "Christianity and Mormonism Comparison Chart". If you answer false, jot down why you believe it is. I really do think the answers will surprise you.

Mark True or False beside each of the following - explain any false answer:

20. The Mormons believe that a long term drought is coming, that this drought will lead to a severe food shortage. This will cause the government to fail; riots over the food shortage will bring down the government. They have weapons and food stored so that they can survive the drought and put down the riots. They will save the country and rule it until Christ returns.

32. The Mormons' focus on family results in support to their own members during hard times when someone has lost a job, through providing, without cost, food, money for house payments, car payments and necessary family activities. No Mormon ever has to go outside for help.
33. They believe women will become Goddesses on their own planet.
34. They teach that Christ and Satan are brothers.

I apologize for such a lengthy list of questions, not normally my approach, but I'm hoping through this method that you will quickly see how different and radical the Mormon faith is from true Christianity and the challenges we will all face as we seek to witness to them.

I encourage you to remain faithful in this study and to commit to loving, seeking and witnessing to our lost brothers, sisters, neighbors, friends and co-workers, who have followed after such radical false teaching, believing a lie for the truth.

May God fill us with a discerning spirit as we continue our study – next week: the Christian Science faith.

In Christ,
